Areco Club Entertains

With Halloween Party

Perhaps the most enjoyable entertainment yet held by the Areco club was the Halloween masquerade Friday night in the spacious restaurant and rest rooms of the American Railway Express company, at Ninth and Chestnut streets. Most of the employees in the general offices of the express company were present, and together with their invited guests, made an enthusiastic gathering, about 200 being masked or in costume. Many of the masqueraders were not only appropriately and characteristically garbed, but most delectably so, even their closest friends in several instances, being unable to recognize them till after masks were removed.

Miss Evelyn Armstrong, Chattanooga's favorite lady violinist, rendered several solos and met with hearty approval. Other features were equally appreciated.

A committee was selected with Mrs. C. E. Stevens, chairman and all masqueraders paraded before the judges and prizes were awarded for the most carefully conceived and executed costumes.

The main dining room during the dance was a scene of riot in colors. A buffet supper was served with sandwiches, coffee, punch, ice cream, etc.

The rest rooms were beautifully decorated appropriate to the spirit of Halloween. Two fortune tellers, in charge of the booths, wore attractive gypsy costumes.

The express company clerks have in the Areco club one of the best social organizations in the city and they are about 100 per cent. enthusiastic for it.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

Miss Helen Bryan and Foster Johnson entertained with a Halloween party at the home of Foster Johnson, in St. Elmo, Friday evening.

The house was artistically decorated in autumn leaves and pumpkins. Jack-o'-lanterns were hung in the library, and festoons of yellow and black crepe paper draped the walls.

Halloween games were enjoyed and a switch foretold the future for the girls and boys. The young people enjoyed a wienie roast at a big bonfire on the tennis court in the yard. During the evening an ice course was served. All the guests came in costumes, which added much to the merriment of the occasion.

Those invited were: Misses Mary Dowler, Marion Eaton, Dorothy Johnson, Hilda Scholte, Catherine Zebelin, Frances Zebelin, Helen Bryan, Sarah Bryan, Penelope Allen and Anna Louise Greenwood.

PARTY FOR DAUGHTER

Mrs. Carl O. Dixon entertained with a Halloween party for her little daughter, Evelyn Virginia, at her home in North Chattanooga Friday afternoon. The lower floor of the house was decorated in yellow and black, pumpkins and black cats added a Halloween touch to the occasion.

N. P. Bacon, who presided, told fortunes in a booth. Mrs. James Bacon, impersonating a spook, told ghost stories. Other Halloween games were enjoyed by the children. During the afternoon an ice course was served.

Those present were Helen Savoy, Ola Lee Bayles, Walter Catron, Jr., Margaret Bacon, Mary Evelyn Bayles, Eugene O'Connor, Elizabeth Leeper, Nell Holloway, Elizabeth Hunter, Edith Owen, Ruby Minick, Mary Talant, W. D. Johnson, Jr., and Evelyn Virginia Dixon.

The Pro Re Bona society will meet at the home of J. M. Cash, 2005 McClellan avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30.

The Pastors' Aid society of the Third and Park Place Presbyterian church will meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the ladies' parlor on the corner of Oak.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Mrs. L. E. Paul entertained Friday evening in honor of Miss Katherine Paul, who celebrated her thirtieth birthday. The decorations of the house were black and yellow and carried out the idea of Halloween. During the evening an ice course which harmonized with the color scheme of the decorations, was served.

Among those present were: Misses Helen McMurray, Viola Nichols, Jane Lane, Lorena Roberts, Hazel Lee Ray, Lilian Plummer, Margie Fay

First Baptist Confident

She Will Raise Her Quota

The First Baptist church will achieve her quota of $100,000 in the $75,000,000 campaign. That is the trend of the conversation and the line of thought that is being evidenced by the membership. Charles F. Hood is the campaign director and A. H. Chapman is campaign organizer, and they are fast whipping into shape an organization that will put the First church over on schedule time.

Mrs. Hood and Mr. Chapman have summoned all of the officers, teachers, leaders and deacons in the church to a meeting of vital importance to be held directly following the morning church service.

Strong speakers will present the campaign at the different services Sunday. At Sunday school and to the alert class, Mrs. W. F. Robinson, president of the Women's Missionary union of the Ocoee association, will speak. The morning church service will be addressed by E. H. Rolston, director-general of the campaign for the Ocoee association.

At the evening church service, and the E. Y. P. U. will be spoken by Joe Gillespie, who is active in the young people's work.

This evening at her home in St. Elmo, Miss Catherine Waddell, Miss Beattie May and Miss Mildred Smalling entertained twelve girls friends at the home of Mrs. Waddell in Park Place. The house was decorated in yellow and black and the spirit of Halloween was predominant. Games were enjoyed and the guests wore unique costumes that harmonized with the spirit of the occasion.

Among those present were: Misses Georgia McFarland, Pearl Owen, May Dugger, Linnie Martin, Jessie Kolb, Cecil Brander, Mamie Henry, Beulah Owen, Messrs. Bernard Smith, Roy Smith, Charles Robinson, Fred Kolb, Dan Cotts, Charles Jones, James Hestcott, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, Mrs. Horton, and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Read.

American Girl Decorated

By Rumanian Queen

PAMELA POOR

The queen of Rumania has decorated an American girl, Miss Pamela Poor, with the cross of Marie, in recognition of her skill and care in nursing Rumanian wounded in the hospital at Bucharest. Miss Poor has just returned from Red Cross service overseas. She is the daughter of the late Henry W. Poor, publisher.

Miss Poor acted as assistant to Dr. John E. Keefe, of Springfield, Mass., a dental surgeon, who served in Rumania.

She returned Friday evening from New York.

Mrs. A. C. Jenkins, of Birmingham, who has been seriously ill at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. E. Wiley, is reported to be decidedly better. This will be good news to her many friends in Chattanooga whom she has not had the pleasure of seeing because she was taken sick the day after her arrival in Chattanooga.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Bryan and family will spend the week-end on Walden.

John W. Hall is a guest in the city.

Miss Clara Trotter is able to be out from her recent illness.

Misses Maude Barnes, Annie Barnes, Mamie Harris, and Howell Blumitt are spending the week-end in Birmingham.

Mrs. Eugene Thomason, who has been ill, is much better.

Henry A. Kropp, Jr., will Wed Miss Helen Egan

Henry A. Kropp, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Kropp, of this city, left Wednesday for Philadelphia, where he will be married to Miss Helen Egan, an attractive young girl of that city. The wedding will take place Nov. 1.

Mr. Kropp is connected with the Orange Whistle company and is a well-known Chattanooga. After the wedding he will bring his bride here to reside.

ELZEY-CASE
Miss Agnes Case and Rev. Rowland C. Elzey were quietly married at the home of the bride, in Trenton, Ga., Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The bride wore a becoming dress of blue georgette and satin. Her bouquet was of white carnations.

The ceremony was followed by a reception. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Case, of Trenton, Ga., and is a graduate of the Chattanooga High school class of 1918. She has many friends in the city who will be interested in her marriage.

Rev. Elzey's home is in Seaford, Del. He was formerly a student at Chattanooga university.

The couple stopped in Chattanooga Friday with friends, en route to their home in Trenton.

MISS SADD HONORED
Mrs. Clarence Avery was the hostess of a luncheon today at her home in North Chattanooga, in honor of Miss Margaret Sade, whose marriage takes place next week. The guest list was limited to the bridal party.

The development in telegraphic and telephonic equipment effected during the war would have occupied probably years to attain in ordinary years.

"ABSOLUTELY INDEPENDENT"
York Theater
527 MARKET STREET
"Bolshevism on Trial"

What is Bolshevism? Where does Socialism end and Bolshevism start? Is it practicable? How does it affect a community? All these questions are answered in this timely dramatic story of love, adventure and romance.

The plot deals with the adventures of Captain Norman Worth, invalided home to America after service with the famous Lafayette Escadrille. He becomes interested in a scheme to establish a communistic colony. Other leaders in this movement include Herman Wolff and his wife; a beautiful, self-sacrificing young girl named Barbara Bozenta who is helping Wolff because of her idealistic hopes for a better civilization. Upon arrival at the colony, she personally secured by Norman, he is elected Comrade Chief and apportions the work. Naturally, a large number of the colonists are displeased with the jobs allotted to them and the spark of resentment is fanned to the explosive point by Wolff and his Bolshevist aides. Norman is deposed and Wolff elected in his place. Immediately, liberty is turned into license—nobody works, free love is in full swing, and the high ideals of the colony are dragged in the mire of Bolshevist practice. In the midst of these stirring incidents, a real love develops between Norman and Barbara which they realize only when grave personal danger threatens them. It takes heartaches, the conflict of strong wills, and even physical struggle before the two lovers attain happiness and the colony is wrested from the Red Flag and restored to the Stars and Stripes. Bolshevism has been tried and found wanting.

See what beautiful ideals Socialism built, only to be destroyed by Bolshevism lust and greed. Factory owners, laborers, capitalists, ex-service men—see this masterpiece, and decide for yourself.

Bolshevism is being tried!

Brilliant Hallowe'en Ball at Country Club

Junior League Stages Most Successful Function in History of Organization—Debutantes Give Gypsy Dance.

The Hallowe'en ball given at the Country club Friday night under the auspices of the Junior league was the most brilliant occasion of its kind in the history of the organization. Socially and financially the success achieved by the young women in charge was most gratifying. Over 800 members of Chattanooga society and the army set were present. The Golf and Country club was artistically decorated in Hallowe'en colors. A program made up from local talent was greatly enjoyed by those present. The debutantes made their formal bow to society, and were the recipients of much admiration.

The program was headed by Mayor A. W. Chambliss and Miss Louise Llewellyn, president of the Junior league. They were followed by the other officers of the league, members and guests. At the close of the figure the lights were dimmed and Mrs. William Pryor sang from the balcony of the ballroom "My Little Gypsy Sweetheart," from "The Fortune Teller."

The ballroom was hung with yellow lanterns; cornstalks and autumn leaves banked on either side gave the effect of a forest; at the south end of the room a gypsy camp was pitched, with its burning caldron and other features of the wanderers' life.

The gypsy dance was given by the debutantes, performed in front of the improvised gypsy camp. The dancers, Miss Katherine Andrews, Miss Elizabeth Watkins, Miss Adele Lowry and Miss Winifred Ewing, gave Brahms' Gypsy Dance with unusual grace and skill. The girls wore the attractive costumes of gypsies. Miss Ewing's skirt was of red, green, blue and yellow georgette; her blouse was of white silk, and on her head she wore a handkerchief of blue silk with gypsy fashion; a string of heavy black beads finished her costume.

Miss Lowry wore a skirt of dark red velvet with a blouse of white silk; her hair and her covering were of roman striped silk. Miss Watkins' skirt was of many-colored georgette stripes; her blouse was of white silk, and her head covering was of red. Miss Andrews wore a skirt of purple silk, with a blouse of white silk; her hair and headpiece were of yellow.

During the evening a cabaret supper was served and some novel stunts were pulled off.

Little Miss Jane Gilman, dressed in fairy costume gave a solo dance. A mock marriage was celebrated, which was enjoyed by the participants as well as the audience. The bride groom was led by the officiating minister, Arthur Allen. Next entered the little flower girl, Burton Carlton and the bride, dressed in pink tulle and carrying a basket of autumn leaves. They were followed by the bride's maid, Waverly Dewees and John Rathmell, who were gowning in pink decolette frocks, worn with hats of pink decolette flowers, with arm bouquets of carnations.

The pillow was carried by little Stanley Robinson, dressed in pink. The bride and groom entered together, and proceeded to the end of the room, where the ceremony was performed. The bride, Will Shepherd, was attended in full bridal toilet of white. The veil was of white tulle caught into place by a wreath of flowers. The bride bouquet was a shower of white onions.

Miss Martha Davenport and William Green gave a clever song, "You'd Be Surprised," and as an encore, "The Blues My Sweetie Gives to Me."

Strang Dicklin sang "Will O' the Wisp," and as an encore a parody on "The Blues My Sweetie Gives to Me."
